

"Dr. Jeykle and Mr. Jaggs"

Mr. Jaggs you say you're sure we've never met
But you look familiar to me tho' I haven't placed you yet
And your bitter disposition makes me all the more regret
That you remind me of a buddy Mr. Jaggs

Mr. Jaggs you say you're absolutely sure
That we're strangers and we've never met before
But before you started talkin' I was sure
I thought you were my buddy, Mr. Jaggs

Mr. Jaggs I really thought I had you pegged
Resemblance you bear to him is something more than vague
And thoughts of your resemblance search and haunt me like a plague
For you remind me of a buddy Mr. Jaggs

It's a different situation that I know
But times you used to give me comfort now you tell me where to go
And it's a shame
You remind me of a buddy Mr. Jaggs
