

"Steel Guitars in Heaven"

Well if there is no beer in heaven
ah that's alright by me
I've already had enough for all eternity
But when my time is over
I want you all to know
That if there ain't no steel guitars in heaven then I don't want to go

Yes I like to buy imported beer but that's what money's for Yes I like booze and I like broads but I like music more Heaven here on earth must be a Linda Ronstadt show
But if there ain't no steel guitars in heaven then I don't want to go

Guitar Break

Yes I do like Bob Will's music
Hark the Texas Playboys sing
And I hope in heaven's Austin they'll be singin' for the King
And if Hank Williams died and went to hell
Lord I don't want to know
And if there ain't no steel guitars in heaven then I don't want to go

Yes heaven sounds just fine to me
There's only good folks there
Just walkin' down them golden streets without an earthly care
And I know that they've got trumpets there
The Bible tells me so
But if there ain't no steel guitars in heaven then I don't want to go
Yes if there ain't no steel guitars in heaven then I don't want to go
No if there ain't no steel guitars in heaven then I don't want to go
